

Biblical Archaeology

Hebrew and Semitic Studies 451

Biblical Archaeology, Hebrew and Semitic Studies 451, meets on Thursday night between 6:00 and 9:20 in Room 2080 Grainger Hall. Jeffrey A. Blakely is the instructor for the class. Office hours will be Thursday afternoon from 2:00 to 3:00 at Café Espresso Royale and Thursday evening from 5:15 to 6:00 in the classroom should that be available, or, failing that, outside and in front of the classroom. Other times can be arranged by calling my home number, 238-2227 (before 9 pm). I can also be reached by EMAIL at jblakely@wisc.edu. I can usually guarantee a response within 24 hours.

Each class consists of a 140-minute lecture, a 15-minute break, and a 45-minute discussion covering the lecture, the assigned readings, and, if desired, optional readings. The sequence of lecture and discussion may vary. The first paper will be a 15-page research paper and will be due 10 October at the start of class. Either, compare and critically contrast methods, goals, assumptions, and conclusions of the following four books:

Robinson, Edward

1841 Biblical Researches in Palestine, Mount Sinai, and Arabia Petraea, 2 vols. London: John Murray. DS 107 R65 1841 – Memorial Library.

Smith, George Adam

1972 The Historical Geography of the Holy Land, 25th Edition. Gloucester, Mass.: Peter Smith. DS 107 S6 1972.

Albright, William Foxwell

1960 The Archaeology of Palestine. Baltimore: Penguin Books. DS 108.9 A6 1960.

Wright, George Ernest

1957 Biblical Archaeology. Philadelphia: Westminster Press. BS 620 W7.

Or, compare the use of archaeology in the following works, both at the times they were written and from today's perspective.

Ahlström, Gösta W.

1993 The History of Ancient Palestine from the Palaeolithic Period to Alexander's Conquest, ed. by Diana Edelman. Sheffield: JSOT. (Section on Early Israel only) DS117 A58 1993 – Memorial Library

Alt, Albrecht

1989 Essays on Old Testament History and Religion (Kleine Schriften zur Geschichte des Volkes Israel). Sheffield: JSOT. BS1188 A4 1989 – Memorial Library

Albright, William F.

1935 Archaeology and the Date of the Hebrew Conquest of Palestine. Bulletin of the American Schools of Oriental Research 58: 10-18. – Memorial Library

1939 The Israelite Conquest of Canaan in the Light of Archaeology. Bulletin of the American Schools of Oriental Research 74: 11-23. – Memorial Library

Gottwald, Norman K.

1979 The Tribes of Yahweh: A Sociology of Liberated Israel, 1250-1050 BCE. London: SCM Press, 1979. BS 1199 S6 G67 – Memorial Library

Lapp, Paul W.

1969 Biblical Archaeology and History. New York: World Publishing Company. BS 621 L35.

Mendenhall, George E.

1962 The Hebrew Conquest of Canaan. Biblical Archaeologist 25: 66-87. – Memorial Library

The second paper will be a 20-page research paper that is due 12 December at the start of class. The topic for this paper will be agreed to between each student and the instructor. Potential topics will be similar to those assigned to the undergraduate students.

Note, all students in Hebrew 451 are expected to read the required readings for the Hebrew 241 course and to participate actively in any class discussions. Should any student in 451 miss more than one class for anything but extraordinary reasons, or, the 451 students fail to participate in whatever class discussions that might develop giving evidence that they have studied the required readings, then all students in 451 will be required to take the final exam. This is necessary to provide a basis for evaluating exams given at a graduate level. The final exam would be due via email before 9:25 pm Thursday 19 December or that evening between 7:25 and 9:25 pm in Room 2080 Grainger Hall. The final exam would be comprised of short answer and essay questions. In this latter eventuality, each paper and the final exam will be 33.33% of the final grade.

Auditors will be required neither to take exams nor to prepare papers, but will be expected to complete the readings and participate in class discussion.
